About Maison&Objet and Maison&Objet Design Awards China

Over 25 years, Maison&Objet, organized by SAFI (a subsidiary of Ateliers d'Art de France and RX France), has been engaging with and bringing together the international design, home decor and lifestyle communities. What is Maison&Objet trademark? Its unique ability to generate connections and accelerate business, both during trade fairs and via its digital platform, but also through its unique talent for highlighting trends that will excite and inspire the home decor world. Maison&Objet's mission is to reveal talent, spark connections and provide inspiration, both on- and off-line, thereby helping businesses grow. Through two yearly trade fairs for industry professionals and Paris Design Week, a public event in September that brings the creative energy of designers and brands together in the City of Light, Maison&Objet is the go-to platform for the entire interior design sector.

In 2019, Maison&Objet with local partners in China, as Aube International, an event and PR company have established an international design award – Maison&Objet Design Award China in order to bring Chinese Design to the international stage and help more Chinese designers gain worldwide attention and exposure.

The award committee has been following the concept of “Explore good design, Create better life”, focusing on the rapidly developing Chinese design, discovering outstanding design talents, giving them the opportunity to showcase their talents and make connection with professionals from all over the world in this industry.
